SUCCESSFUL SEED FAIR AND POULTRY SHOW HELD LAST SATURDAY: GOOD EXHIBITS

A splendid showing of grains, potatoes, and poultry was exhibited at the Seed Fair and Poultry Show, held at Chauvin, Saturday last, under the auspices of the Chauvin Agricultural Society.

The Society had prepared a number of crates for exhibition of the birds, and believed they had made adequate provision. It proved otherwise.

The showing of white Wyandottes and Plymouth Rocks, was specially good. Turkeys also made a good display though handicapped for room. The dressed poultry was of a high standard and with suitable decoration would be worthy of a place in a provincial exhibition. The judge, Mr. J. E. Pengelly remarked that there were a few Plymouth rock birds that lost prizes on account of feet being off color, and some of the females of the same species were not well barred. The grain display was of the high quality. Grains, particularly wheats, were of outstanding merit, though we would have welcomed a heavier entry. In potatoes the Early Everett, from Scott Experimental farm, pre-eminently an excellent showing.

Mr. Pengelly gave an address on the care of poultry later in the afternoon. For layers and table birds he recommended Barred Rocks, White Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Buff Orpingtons. To get winter layers it was desirable to keep the birds as nearly as possible in natural conditions. The birds, given ordinarily good housing, should be supplied with a foot of straw so that by scratching for their feed, they might provide much of their own warmth. Provide green feed, and raw potato. A cow's head suspended is a good method of feeding meat. The same to be thawed if it becomes frozen. Always provide a supply of water.

H. E. SPENCER, M.P. GIVES INTERESTING ADDRESSES AT GREENMEADOWS & PROSPERITY

A meeting of the U.F.A.s of the district assembled at Green Meadows school Wednesday evening, November 29th to hear the member for the Battle River constituency, Mr. H. E. Spencer.

Mr. E. B. Lang, who was appointed chairman of the meeting, briefly introduced the speaker, at the same time extending him a hearty welcome.

H. E. Spencer, M.P., stated that in the past it had been unusual for the member to hold meetings excepting only before elections, but that now the constituency had local autonomy they had a right to expect more information. It was the purpose of the twelve Alberta members since the session ending last July to give their constituents information of what takes place at Parliament Hill, Ottawa. He proposed to give his present hearers a line-up on what had taken place, to invite suggestions, and to give them an opportunity of asking questions. The last session of parliament was of 123 days duration. Describing the opening, he told how the members were each given their individual spots in the house after being sworn in. The speaker and deputies are appointed.

Next day the speaker came to the Black Rod then appears on the scene, bowing three times as he advances, the commons are commanded, building and provided only accommodation for 40 of the 235 members of the lower house. The majority of the members are unable to hear the speech and have to obtain a copy of the newspaper in order to learn what was said.

The reply to the address from the throne occupied thirteen days of the time of the lower house, and thirty-eight of the members spoke in this connection.

It early appeared that the three provinces who are specially organized, in reality, controlled the tariff policy. It also appeared that the three maritime and the three prairie provinces had much in common, as the trend of their trade was naturally toward the south.

After the reply to the throne, the next business of parliament was the estimates. Canada had 45,000 civil servants. Each minister prepared his own estimates, and whilst sitting in the house had his deputy minister seated directly in front of him in order to assist in detail matters. Each estimate was dealt with in good detail. Each member had the right to ask for the full details of each item covered by the estimates. It was to be observed that the experienced ministers, particularly Hon. H. S. Fielding and Postmaster-General, were well posted in their work. Some of the others had more difficulty. In some respects the house was like a large public school. Those who were sincere and doing their best received a generous hearing, whilst those who put on side or tried to go through in a rough-shod manner were in for a bad time. He related a passage of arms between the minister of defence and Mr. Hon. A. Meighen. Meighen had been cross-questioning somewhat sharply. Exasperated the minister of defence remarked that he was not a prisoner at the bar, nor was his questioner the premier of Canada. In reply, Meighen stated that as a private member he would insist on the rights of a private member.

In the matter of the budget, the progressives did not expect those in control would, so they voted the budget. In the budget the only people who correctly were the progressives. They did not hold together. B.C. and a few Ontario who came from industrial areas. Whilst voted in favour of the budget, the members from the three prairie provinces voted solidly against it. Ontario had 7 progressives and 17 against, and the 2 from B.C. voted for.

Rural Quebec did not like the budget, and an open revolt of the members was expected on a central vote showed that owing to the power those members voted in favour of the budget. Whilst at the official conservative opposition heart quite in accord with the progressive budget their vote was not based on the government.

In describing the work of the house, Spencer stated that each of the 234 members spent on two or more of the house, meeting from 11 to 12 noon, and often later. The house was fully occupied.

At first the house did not meet on Wednesday evenings. Later in the session the house met on Wednesday evening. On Saturday was the practice of the Alberta members to meet and check up their work of the past week, consider reports of committees, and to go over the work of the coming week. Life at Ottawa could not be described as having a good time, it was in fact a very anxious life.

Mr. Spencer read a copy of the petition he received from 53 residents of the Edgerton district, stating that it was addressed to the minister of immigration, to whom he had handed it. This was the correct mode of procedure.

Illustrating the wide range of subject that come before parliament for consideration he related the question of the Nova Scotia mines, giving an outline of the history of events and the final action taken to settle the question. On the Pacific coast the issues were control of the drug traffic, control of fisheries, which though the largest in the world were in danger of coming to an end. Also the matter of oriental immigration. This last matter was of vital importance. He stated that 1 year ago 1 birth in 253 in B.C. was that of an oriental child. At the time the B.C. resolution was in effect, the exclusion of oriental immigration was in effect.

He stated that the importance that agriculture had for the ex-servicemen we now have. Keep them on the land by making agriculture profitable, rather than bring in green man to learn the whole business. If we have a contented people on our land the thousand will soon come and join them.

The next session would deal with revision of the Bank Act, redistribution, wheat marketing and grain enquiry. In connection with the last matter Mr. Spencer briefly related the history of the last enquiry and the conclusion of Mr. Spencer's members that a wheat board was essentially necessary. All kinds of adverse propaganda having been circulated throughout the east. The cabinet took no part in this fight, and it was only by the most determinate action of the progressive bloc that the measure was passed.

There was most unfortunately, not sufficient time left for the bill to be enacted this year, but the matter is not dead by a long way. It is stronger than it was one year ago. We now know who is for and who against. We know also our own strength. With legislation from the three western provinces presented to the federal house we may look for some sort of scheme for the better marketing of wheat for the coming season.

Referring to the freight rates question Mr. Spencer told how that from Fort William to the Atlantic eastern rates prevailed, and from Fort William to the Pacific western rates. In 1897 the C.P.R. received a subsidy of $1,000 per mile for the construction of a line from Lethbridge to the Kootenay, in consideration of which the Crows Nest Pass agreement was duly drawn up. In 1913 the McAdoo award brought wages to an high level, and as the time of agricultural products received good returns it was decided to raise the freight rates above that meeting the M.P.s was supported by the prairie M.P.s was negative. The matter had been dropped on it was apparent the progressives were outnumbered. They agreed to form teams of four to keep the debate going. Rather than have a battery of 65 progressives occupy the balance of the session the Crows Nest Pass terms were granted on grain and grain products going east.

The unemployment question was an important one. This the federal government endeavoured to pass on to the municipal and provincial governments. It was in reality a matter for which federal government should accept responsibility, for it was largely due to the fiscal policy of the federal government. Last winter there were over 200,000 unemployed, and doles amounting to $1,700,000 were spent. There is a close relationship between the condition of agriculture and unemployment.

The country is headed straight toward national bankruptcy.

to day it is a case of instant action. York to no less than 100,000. Whether the time was made profitable for the ex-servicemen we now have. Keep them on the land by making agriculture profitable, rather than bring in green man to learn the whole business. If we have a contented people on our land the thousand will soon come and join them.

The next session would deal with revision of the Bank Act, redistribution, wheat marketing and grain enquiry. In connection with the last matter Mr. Spencer briefly related the history of the last enquiry and the conclusion of Mr. Spencer's

FORTNIGHT'S ILLNESS

Mr. S. W. Buck, of Airlie, died at mid-day Sunday, December 3rd, after being ill about a fortnight. Mr. Buck has been ailing for two or three years but despite his advanced age has been remarkably active and virile. OF WORK
W.L.A. GREAT SUCCESS PROVES GRE

Success attended the Westminster Ladies Auxiliary on Saturday last at their sale of work and home cooking. A choice display of useful and fancy articles were arranged to attract the ready buyers and the tables soon began to wear a depleted look to the gratification of the sales ladies.

A fish pond was very popular with the children and, yes, to the grown-ups too, and the pond was very soon emptied.

Tea was served and the ladies who undertook this part of the work were kept busy attending to the many who patronized their tables. Everything went with a swing and the ladies are to be congratulated on the organization and carrying out of their work.

The sum of $155 was realized as a result of the sale.

INTERN LECTURES AT EDINGLASSIE

Edinglassie School is to be congratulated on the acquisition of a lantern. This is a valuable instrument costing over $100 and capable of showing the best pictures. Series of illustrated will be arranged for. Full particulars will be announced later.

The first public lantern lecture will be given in Edinglassie school, on Friday, December 8th, commencing at 8 o'clock in the evening. The subject will be "Across Canada, from Halifax to Edmonton, via the C.P.R."

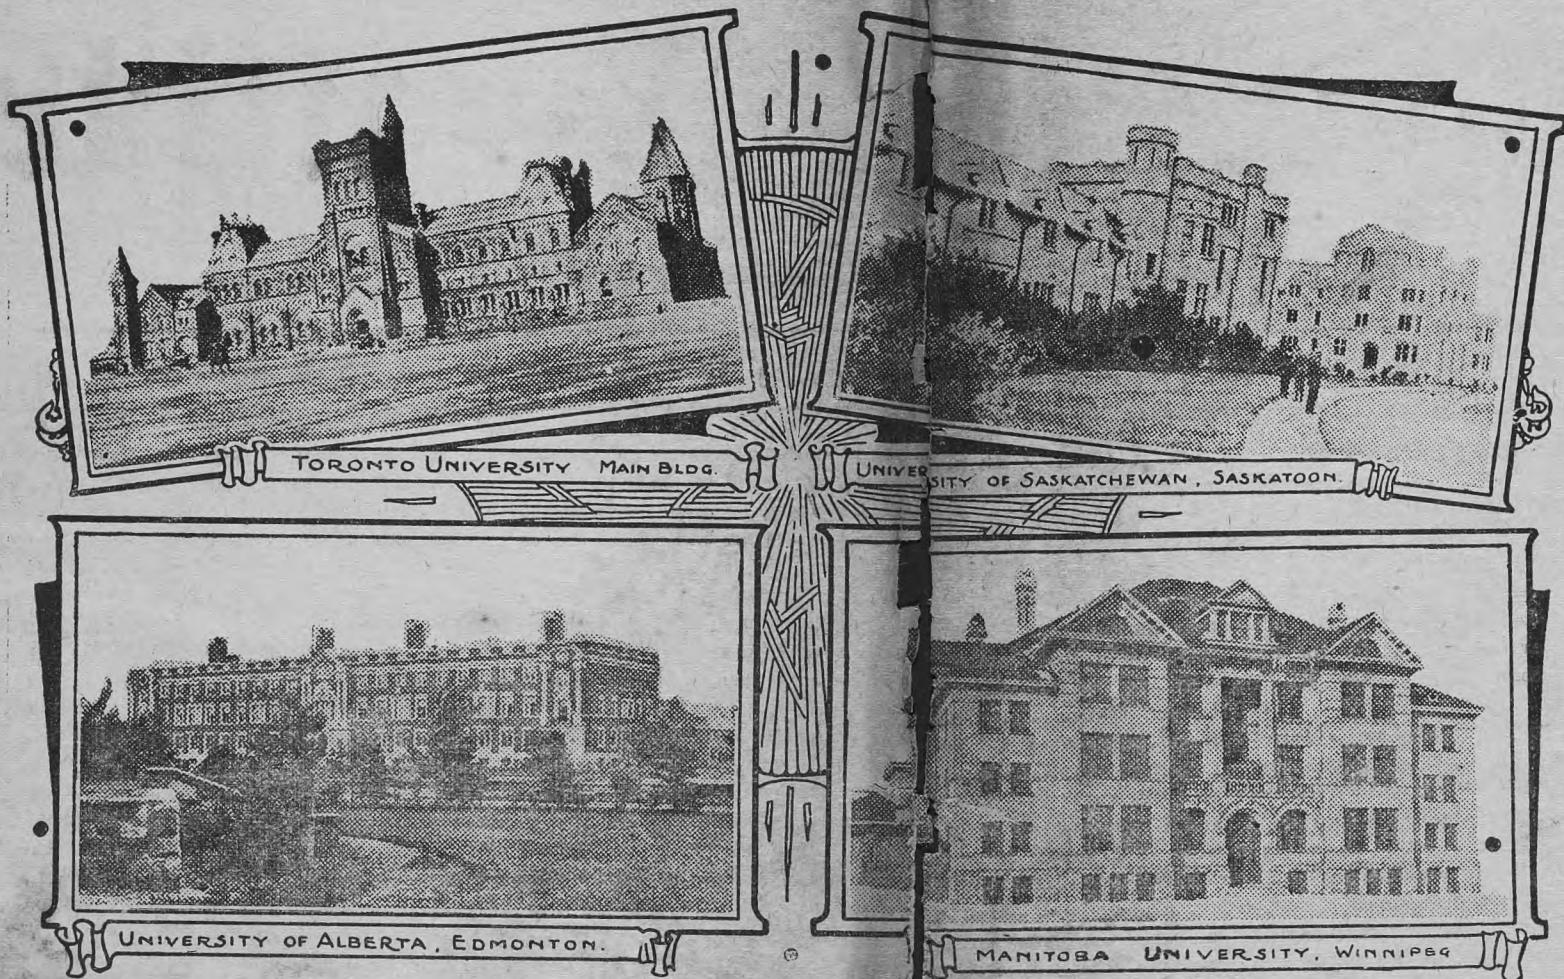

Following the lecture will be a brief concert in which the best local talent will participate.

This in turn will be followed by a substantial lunch, after which dancing will be kept up as long as the fiddles can hold out.

A charge of one dollar will be made to gentlemen attending.

As this is the first and main effort to raise money to pay the University of Alberta for the lantern equipment, it is earnestly hoped that a good attendance will be in evidence.

NATION BUILDING IN CANADA

Universities to Follow the Railroad in Binding East and West Together
For the Cause of National Unity

Hand in hand with the material growth of Canada, with the extension of her population, and the development of her natural resources, moves forward the current of her intellectual and spiritual life. The race of men and women whose adventurous spirit and indomitable courage are making a new world of mental and spiritual effort in which they in turn, must be pioneers. The realization of this fact has become a living force in the fine universities that are already doing a great work at Winnipeg, Edmonton, and Saskatoon and Vancouver.

Don't Smile At These

UNEXPECTED DISCOVERY

A Scotch laborer was slipping out of the yard during working hours when he met the foreman. "Hallo!" said the latter pleasantly, "were you looking for me?" "Ay," replied Sandy. "I wis lookin' for ye, but I didn't want tae find yae."

Barbers are smat men and know all the values of flattery. That is why they ask a smoth-faced youth if he wants a shave, and a bald-headed man if he wants a haircut.

First Player: "I don't like to get billiard chalk on my clothes."
Second Player: "That can't do much damage."
Can't it? It looks too much like face powder."

A SHREWD YOUTH

The teacher had been explaining fractions to her class. When she had discussed the subject at length, wishing to discover how much the lesson had gone home to the brains of her students, she inquired: "Now, Edgar which would you rather have, one apple or two halves?" The little boy promptly replied, "Two halves!" "Oh Edgar," exclaimed the young woman, a little disappointedly, "why would you prefer two halves?" "Because then I could see if it was bad inside."

The guest hurried up to the hotel clerk's counter. He had just ten minutes to pay his bill, reach the station and board his train.

"Hang it," he exclaimed, "I've forgotten something. Here, boy, run up to my room—number 427—and see if I left my pyjamas and shaving kit. I've only five minutes now!"
The boy hurried. In four minutes of breath.

"A Book of the first printed in England—was for $16000 on behalf of the Museum at Sotheby's sale. The book, so small that it could easily slipped in the pocket, was printed in 1523 by one Richard Pynson. It was written by Sir Anthony Fitzherbert, of Norbury, Derbyshire, and is in excellent condition, though colored with age. It is bound in morocco.

SELF CONTROL

Sandy MacKay was anxious to take his wife for an aeroplane trip.

After much haggling he agreed to pay the aviator a $5 fee, and, in addition, 25c for every exclamation or word uttered during the flight.

Having gone up a few thousand feet the airman indulged in a number of hair-raising stunts, finishing up by looping the loop several times, but, try as he would, he could not make the Scotsman utter one syllable.

When they reached earth again he congratulated Sandy on his self-control.

"Why, mon," was the reply, "it was not so great a test, but it nearly cost me a quarter when the wife fell out."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

An earnest effort has been made to rectify a condition of which most of us have complained in the past. We refer to the visit of our Ottawa representative to our district. In a very simple straight forward manner our member has told us what transpired since he was elected to act as our representative.

This is quite different from what we have been accustomed to. In the past it too often happened that we only saw our member immediately prior to and during an election campaign.

Now, however, that this is rectified, we are surprised to find that the voters are in no great hurry to come and hear their member. Frankly, we feel it our duty to say that the average citizen is displaying utter apathy in this matter. Supporters and opposers seem to be alike affected by this apathy.

Oh yes, we hear a lot of "perfectly good" excuses. It was a cold night; it was too far to travel; Why didn't they hold the meetings in town? Why didn't they advertise more? I was too tired; Spencer's doing alright; Spencer's no good; and many more. But, say don't these excuses look a fine lot in print.

To hold 56 meetings as our member has done over a constituency 200 miles north to south and 60 east to west, since last July has involved very considerable travel and labor. But it is done that all may have an opportunity of learning at first hand what our member has done, and also that the member may learn at first hand what the people want done.

It has been suggested that another year it might be possible to arrange for an additional meeting in Chauvin in the afternoon. The committee in charge will be well advised to give this suggestion consideration in due course. The greatest convenience for a large meeting is to be found in town and the afternoon is more suitable for those coming in.

"Let George do it" Yes by all means that is the attitude shown towards the rifle club. By the energy of a few, we might say by the energy of one, Chauvin has a splendid rifle range. By the payment of just one single dollar a member gets the use of the butts and a quota of one hundred rounds of ammunition. The government demand, and rightly, that at least a roll of thirty members be sent into headquarters. Is there thirty men in our district who can sport a nimble dollar, and help "George" along.

"Nothing like sticking to it" We may all be proud that the Chauvin Agricultural Society held such a very successful Seed and Poultry Show last Saturday. The show brought forward some very good samples of grains. The display of the various varieties of wheat was most instructive. In poultry the Experimental Station and grown by Lt-Col W. Rodden (who is of Irish descent) received a well merited boost. Of the poultry we might say that if market prices were as high as the quality of the birds shown, Chauvin would be a place of prosperity.

The officials of the Society spared no efforts in this their third try for a successful show. We congratulate them on their success. Meanwhile, we may be pardoned if we ask every member and supporter to go to their annual meeting next Saturday.

NOTES FROM THE NORTH EAST

December is here, and no snow at the time of writing these notes, looks as if we are in for a mild winter.

We hear there is no Xmas tree at Stannmore School this year. We shall be pleased to see this contradicted for the sake of the children.

HERBERT BUTLER DIES AT SOURIS HOSPITAL

One more of our pioneer citizens has passed to the Great Beyond. Herbert Butler, after a prolonged illness, died at the Souris Hospital, Manitoba, on Friday, November 17th.

Mrs Butler had been summoned to Souris, and the funeral was conducted at that point.

A memorial service, which was well attended, was held at Airie last Sunday afternoon. Rev Millar officiating and Mrs. C. Miller at the organ. By a strange coincidence another respected and aged pioneer, S. W. Buck, of Airie, had passed to the Great Beyond prior to the gathering. Rev. Miller took for his text, "So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom," and gave a most appropriate address, in which he referred to the esteem in which the deceased was held by all his friends and neighbours.

Herbert Butler was one of the original settlers in the Manitou Lake district, and later came to the Airie district. He took a prominent part in the affairs of the community and was a good worker for local causes. He is survived by a widow and three boys, Melville, Lawrence and Howard. The deceased was 44 years of age.

We are but expressing the sentiments of all, when we say that profound sympathy is felt for the bereaved.

At the conclusion of Mr Spencer's speech a number of questions were asked and answered. Following which Mr D. Ferguson gave a reading, and Mrs C. Miller sang. By this time a lunch was gotten ready by the ladies of the U. F. W. A., this being enjoyed by all present.

REDUCED FARES TO THE PACIFIC COAST

The Canadian National Railways will sell tickets at greatly reduced fares from points Winnipeg and Emerson west in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, on December 5th, 7th, 12th, 14th, 19th, 21st, 26th and 28th, 1922; January 2nd, 4th, 9th, 11th, 16th, 18th, 23rd, 25th, and February 6th, and 8th, 1923.

Travelling on the Canadian National to the Pacific Coast is a definite pleasure. There is no better way of taking a holiday than by a trip over this road, the enjoyment starts when you do, and you do not have to wait for pleasurable experiences until you reach your destination. The Canadian National Railways owns and operates its own sleeping cars and dining cars. These cars, on through trains, are models of luxury and convenience built by experts and embodying improvements resulting from long years of experience in studying the requirements of first class travel. An additional convenience is provided by tourist car service. Canadian National tourist cars are all new and embody the latest and most modern improvements. Charges are only half those for accommodation in standard sleeping cars. For those bringing lunch and desiring to do their own cooking en route, a kitchen is provided in a compartment shut off from the rest of the car. A fire is kept constantly burning in the cook stove and a sink with taps provides hot and cold running water.

The dining cars, with their handsome finish, quiet decorative details and adequate arrangements, furnish a meal time environment both useful and pleasing and at reasonable cost. All passengers have access to the Dining Cars.

The Canadian National Railways offers patrons the option of travelling all rail to Vancouver or rail to Prince Rupert, thence Grand Trunk Pacific steamships to either Vancouver or Victoria; or the trip may be made going one way and returning the other.

A greater influx of tourists and excursionists is expected at these North Pacific Coast resorts, as these cities have taken considerable trouble to make the countryside acquainted with the beauties of our coast points as winter resorts.

FARMING IN CHINA

For over 4,000 years Chinese methods have maintained the fertility of the soil. Despite obsolete equipment, China is probably, after the United States, the foremost agricultural nation; intensive cultivation grows several crops on the same plot of land. The farmer generally owns his land, though the average farm is but an acre in extent. No less than 80 per cent of the foreign trade consists of agricultural and allied products.

IMPORTANCE OF THE COMMA

The teacher had been explaining fractions to her class. When she had none was intended, cos the U.S. government approximately two million dollars, a few years ago. A new tariff bill, designed to encourage the cultivation of fruit trees and vines of high quality, provided that "foreign fruit plants, etc." were to be admitted free. But the printer put a comma between "fruit" and "plants" with the result that for a year great quantities of fruit came into the country free.

He: "Why not give me your reply now? It is not fair to keep me in suspense."

She: "But think of the time you have kept me in suspense."

"Home sweet home" is something that two can make and one can mar.

New Office Boy: "A man called here to thrash you a few minutes ago."

New Office Boy: "I told him I was sorry you weren't in."

A DISMAL OUTLOOK

The minister of a Scottish country parish, whose estimate of himself was not of the lowest type, had accepted a call to a wider sphere, and was paying a few farewell visits. "So, ye'he gaun to leave us," said one of his oldest female parishoners, as he sat down "What will we dae noo?" "Oh, Mrs MacFarlane," replied the minister in affable tones, "you'll soon get a far better man!" "'Deed, sir," came the despondent rejoinder, "I hae my doots. We've had five in my time, and every one o' them has been worse than the last!"

RETURNED WITH THANKS

In a remote district the post office was also the local store. A post office official found fault with the way in which the postal business was being conducted, rearking with a lofty air:
"You will hear from head office."
This was too much for the harassed post master who disappeared for a moment, to return with a wooden box under his arm containing a few stamps and two books. He held out the box at arm's length.
"Here," he said. "take your bloomin' post office with you!"

The Literary Editor; "That young fellow Scribbler sent in a paper this morning, entitled, 'Why do I live?' " Editor in Chief; "What did you do with it?"
The Literary Editor; "I sent it back with an enclosed slip saying; "Because you posted this instead of bringing it personally."
